Edward Waters College, Inc. – Scope of Services

Edward Waters College, Inc. (“EWC”) will provide outreach resources to educate, facilitate, and vaccinate those populations who are vaccine-hesitant utilizing creative and direct education, outreach, and marketing. The goal is to increase vaccinations for low-income, vaccine-hesitant populations within underserved communities of Duval County through trusted voices made up of a coalition of churches, influencers, schools, community leaders, leaders of groups and associations representing low-income populations within underserved communities, non-profit organizations, community businesses, and other reputable stakeholders. The coalition, through EWC, will provide direct and focused messaging and events to Duval County residents through events, media, and recognizable leaders and influencers. The coalition will also provide direct access to the COVID-19 vaccine by recruiting in the community and compensating door to door canvassers, conducting neighborhood and community events which may creatively incentivize resident participation, and facilitating direct vaccine access, which includes appointment scheduling, transportation, and dispatching mobile vaccination units to areas of need.
