Subject: RE: 11.1.22 Maps

Please consider this a one-way communication. City Council Members (colleagues) please do not reply to this E-mail.

Dear CP/Chair Terrance Freeman and Mr. William (Bill) Killingsworth:

I am unavailable to attend the Special Committee on Redistricting meeting scheduled for today, Thursday, November 3, 2022, at 12:00 p.m. because of another commitment. However, I have been following the Special Committee on Redistricting meetings and I am aware of various considerations being raised relative to the proposed maps. To that end, I am requesting that the following information is included for each proposed map and the single member districts:

- a. the gender, age and household size for each of the 14 single member City Council Districts;
- b. educational attainment (25 yo+);
- c. educational attainment (18-24 yo);
- d. veteran status/disability status/benefits (Food Stamp/Snap Benefits/Percentage below the poverty level);
- e. income;
- f. employment status/unemployment rate; and,
- g. differential between proposed maps single member districts and single member districts passed in Ordinance 2022-01.

I am requesting this information in advance of the Special City Council Meeting scheduled for Friday, November 4, 2022, regarding 2022-800. It is important that Council Members have the relevant information regarding the newly proposed maps that was available to Council Members during the prior work of the Redistricting Committees from January 1, 2021, through January 11, 2022.

I am certain that each Council Member wants to ensure that each newly proposed single member district is constituted in a manner that is fair and doesn't unduly burden or disadvantage any single member district over another...or unduly burden or disadvantage any neighbors, their needs and quality of life in Jacksonville, Duval County, Florida. That was foremost on many of our minds during the prior redistricting efforts.

I remain appreciative of the work and support provided to each of us during this process.

Peace,
CM Brenda A. Priestly Jackson
Council Member, District 10
Jacksonville City Council
