The Project Paper Company is an existing financial services company seeking to expand and establish it's National Information and Technology/Mortgage Headquarters division in Jacksonville. This Company is currently being recruited by numerous other locations in the Southeast and is considering options in other large cities that have a significant financial sector located as part of its business environment. The proposed operation includes both front office and c-suite positions as part of its employee base.

The Company plans to spend a minimum $173 million in capital investment and is considering over $216 million over five years in construction, equipment and building improvements. The building will house the current office employees (approximately 1500 employees) which will increase by 500 employees over 7 years. For the newly created jobs, the Company anticipates the average wage including benefits of approximately $125,000 ($100,000 average base salary). The Company finds the financial services sector and employee base in the region a compelling element in its decision to consider Jacksonville.

Furthermore, the Project Paper Company has stated that the City of Jacksonville and State of Florida incentives are a material factor to remain and expand in Jacksonville in lieu of relocating and expanding in another large Southeastern metropolitan area in which it has a presence.
