Icemen Futures Program

Icemen Futures Program

Mission

Modeled after The Ed Snider Hockey Foundation (Philadelphia) and Hockey in Harlem (NY), the Jacksonville Icemen, the Igloo Ice facility, the City of Jacksonville and select partners will provide opportunities for free learn to skate and learn to play programs and exposure to hockey at Icemen games through organizations such as Jacksonville Parks and Recreation, Kids Hope Alliance, Communities in Schools and Boys and Girls Club.

How It Works

Upon completion of the Igloo facility, the Icemen will offer to children affiliated with local organizations an opportunity to sign up as "Icemen Futures". Children between 5-14 who are part of the partner organization are eligible to register on an as available basis. The Program will provide those registered instruction in learning to skate (with instructors) and the basics of hockey. The initial framework of this three year program is, which will evolve as part of the collaboration between the parties:

Exposure: Year One (12 month period beginning within 60 days of opening of both rinks): Each week, the Igloo will make three one-hour sessions available for instruction on learning how to skate and perfecting skating abilities. Igloo will also supply instructors and lend skates to all participants.

To provide participants with additional exposure, each participant and their families will be treated to various clinics throughout the year on topics such as education, off-ice training and staying healthy taught by the Icemen training staff and team medical professionals.

All participants will receive four vouchers to select Adopt-A-Kid Icemen games with a post-game meet the team opportunity.

Learn to Play: Year Two (12 month period beginning at the conclusion of Year One above):

Participants will be moved up from Year One with Learn to Play Hockey opportunities in conjunction with the NHL Learn to Play program. This program provides equipment, lessons and skating opportunities to kids from the Year One program. There is normally a charge for this, the Icemen, the City and partners will provide this at no cost to the youth as they come out of Year One.

Working with Duval schools, there will be an education component added during this Year.

Advancement: Year Three (12 month period beginning at the end of Year Two):

Integration into a more advanced program that would include teams, games, and integration into house leagues - at no cost to the participants. In addition, the education and training programs will advance and intensify.

The goal is to finalize which organizations we will work with and have 80-100 youth in the program in Year One.
